Introduction

New technologies are integral to the lives of children and young people in today's society, both within school and in their lives outside school. The internet and digital information and communication technologies are powerful tools, which open up new opportunities for everyone. These technologies can stimulate discussion, promote creativity and stimulate awareness of context to promote effective learning. They also bring opportunities for staff to be more creative and productive in their work. All users have an entitlement to safe internet access at all times.

This Acceptable Use Policy is intended to ensure that:

- staff and volunteers are responsible users and stay safe while using the internet and other communications technologies for educational, personal and recreational use;
- Trust ICT systems and users are protected from accidental or deliberate misuse that could put the security of the systems and users at risk;
- staff are protected from potential risk in their use of ICT in their everyday work which may include home-learning packages designed for identified pupils.

The Trust will try to ensure that there is good access to ICT to enhance work and learning opportunities for all. We expect staff and volunteers to agree to be responsible users.
